hospice home care

Trained nurses are available 24-hours a day, seven days a week at the Hospice Home. Patients come for short-term inpatient care and respite care. Short term residential care is also available.

Short-term inpatient stays provide pain and symptom management, along with skilled care for those who are imminently dying, Patients also visit the Hospice Home for respite care. This stay provides family members temporary relief from care giving or time to attend out-of-town functions. Short term residential care is also available.

“My wife came to the Cedar Valley Hospice Home three different times. It was just like being at home.”

Patient rooms are furnished like personal bedrooms to create a soothing atmosphere. Low-set windows open the rooms to sunshine, warmth, and a glimpse of nature.

A playroom creates a welcoming environment for young visitors and the guest kitchen always has fresh-baked cookies for visitors.

paying for services

Care at the Hospice Home is available to everyone, regardless of their ability to pay. Medicare, Medicaid, and most private insurance companies cover the costs of hospice care. Community and donor contributions provide care for those who cannot pay and for any costs not covered by insurers.

“We make every effort to maintain a comfortable, gracious, and hospitable atmosphere.”
